Minas Borboudakis was born in Heraklion, Greece, in 1974. From 1992 he studied composition and piano in Munich and Hamburg. He attended master classes with Luciano Berio, George Crumb, Wolfgang Rihm, Rudolf Kehrler and Aleksey Nasedkin.

Borboudakis has been awarded numerous grants and prizes for his work, including a scholarship from the International Summer Academy at the Salzburg Mozarteum (2000), a residency at the Cité Internationale des Arts in Paris (2007), the third prize at the Günter Bialas International Chamber Music Competition (2002), the Rodion Shchedrin Chamber Music Prize (2005), and the Christoph & Stephan Kaske Foundation Award.

His works have been commissioned and performed by internationally renowned ensembles such as the Bavarian and Stuttgart Radio Symphony Orchestras, the Orchestra Sinfonica Nazionale della RAI, the Tonhalle Orchester Zürich, Ensemble Modern, Kremerata Baltica, the Munich Chamber Orchestra and the Austrian Ensemble for New Music. Further commissions have come from German broadcaster Deutschlandfunk and the Bavarian State Opera, where his first stage work, liebe.nur liebe, was premiered in 2007 as part of the Munich Opera Festival, conducted by Kent Nagano. Borboudakis's music has been performed at notable festivals including the Munich Biennale and Klangspuren Schwaz.

Besides working as a composer and teaching composition workshops, Borboudakis regularly appears as a pianist all over Europe, performing his own music and other repertoire of the 20th and 21st centuries.

His style is characterized by microtonality, percussive timbres and glissando sounds, and explores the inspiration he derives from ideas of time and space as well as from a close study of classical philosophy, literature and mythology. His work also reflects a contemplation of scientific and cosmological questions. With its strong rhythmic momentum, his music incorporates archaic tonal systems and ancient Greek rhythmic patterns, as well as experimental electronic sounds. These, in turn, have an immediate impact on the treatment of the acoustic material, resulting in an interweaving of the two.

Minas Borboudakis currently lives in Munich.

Minas Borboudakis

Minas Borboudakis wurde 1974 in Heraklion auf Kreta geboren. Ab 1992 studierte er in München und Hamburg Komposition und Klavier. Er besuchte Meisterklassen von Luciano Berio, George Crumb, Wolfgang Rihm, Rudolf Kehr und Aleksej Nasedkin.

Für seine Kompositionen wurde Borboudakis mehrfach ausgezeichnet, unter anderem mit einem Stipendium der Internationalen Sommerakademie der Universität Mozarteum Salzburg (2000), einem Aufenthalt in der Cité Internationale des Arts in Paris (2007), dem 3. Preis beim Internationalen Günter Bialas-Kompositionswettbewerb, dem Rodion Shchedrin-Kammermusikpreis sowie dem Preis der Christoph und Stephan Kaske-Stiftung.

Zu den Interpreten und Auftraggebern seiner Werke gehören das Symphonieorchester des Bayerischen Rundfunks, das Radio-Sinfonieorchester Stuttgart, das Orchestra Sinfonica Nazionale della RAI und das Tonhalle Orchester Zürich sowie das Ensemble Modern, die Kremerata Baltica, das Münchener Kammerorchester und das Österreichische Ensemble für Neue Musik.

Kompositionsaufträge erhielt er außerdem vom Deutschlandfunk und der Bayerischen Staatsoper, wo 2007 mit liebe.nur liebe bei den Münchener Opernfestspielen unter Kent Nagano sein erstes Bühnenwerk zur Uraufführung kam. Borboudakis Kompositionen werden auf bedeutenden Festivals aufgeführt, so etwa bei der Münchener Biennale oder den Klangspuren Schwaz.

Neben seiner kompositorischen Arbeit und der Veranstaltung von Kompositions-Workshops konzertiert Borboudakis europaweit regelmäßig als Pianist sowohl eigener Werke als auch neuer Musik des 20. und 21. Jahrhunderts.

Zentrale Momente seiner von Mikrotonalität, perkussiven Timbres und glissandierenden Klängen durchzogenen Kompositionen sind die Beschäftigung mit Zeit und Raum und die Auseinandersetzung mit antiker Philosophie, Literatur und Mythologie sowie mit naturwissenschaftlich-kosmologischen Fragen. Die Einbeziehung antiker Tonsysteme und altgriechischer rhythmischer Muster prägen eine in einem starken rhythmischen Impuls unterworfenen Musik ebenso wie das Experimentieren mit elektronischen Klängen, ihr unmittelbarer Einfluss auf die Gestaltung des akustischen Materials und die Verschmelzung der beiden klanglichen Ebenen.

Minas Borboudakis lebt und arbeitet als freischaffender Komponist und Pianist in München.
